1. Scouting

Scouting teaches positive values to boys your son's age. The program builds character, fosters citizenship, and develops fitness. Boy Scouts of America offers time-tested activities that have helped to produce outstanding citizens, family men and community leaders since 1907.

"Scouting is a Game with a Purpose" -- Lord Baden-Powell

The activities used to achieve the goals of Scouting are varied. They include learning to live outdoors, growing to respect nature, working in a patrol environment, giving service to others, and having fun.

1.1. Three Aims of Scouting

The three aims of Scouting are:

1. To build character. Scouting develops four "self" qualities -- self-reliance, self-discipline, self-confidence, and self-respect.
2. To foster citizenship. Scouting encourages each boy to honor his duties as a good citizen in his community.
3. To develop fitness. Scouting recognizes four kinds of fitness -- physical, mental, emotional, and moral.

1.2. Eight Methods of Scouting

The three aims of Scouting are the foundation of the Boy Scouts of America. The following eight methods are the building blocks.

1. Ideals
2. Patrols
3. Outdoors
4. Advancement
5. Personal growth
6. Adult association
7. Leadership development
8. Uniform

Ideals

Scouting ideals are defined by the Scout motto, slogan, oath, and laws.

The Motto: "Be Prepared"

The Slogan: "Do a Good Turn Daily"

The Scout Oath: *On my honor I will do my best
To do my duty to God and my country and
To obey the Scout Law;
To help other people at all times;
To keep myself physically strong,
Mentally awake, and morally straight.*

The Scout Law: *A Scout is... Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly,
Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful,
Thrifty, Brave, Clean and Reverent*

Patrols

The heart of a Boy Scout Troop is the patrol. This is the group your son will work most closely with. A patrol is made of at least 5 boys that function together in all Scout activities.

The Patrol Method is an important part of your son's Scouting experience. Patrols work because:

- Friends. Patrols permit a Scout to be in a group with his friends.
- Small size. Patrols are small so that each boy is needed and must be involved for the patrol to succeed.
- Responsibility. Patrol jobs for everyone means everyone gets a chance to learn and practice responsibility. This provides real life experience working with others toward a common goal.
- Democratic. Patrols expose a Scout to the democratic way of doing things.

Outdoors

Outdoor activities are the focal point of Scouting. While in the outdoors, boys share responsibilities and learn to live with each other. They learn how to care for themselves. They prepare campsites, build fires, and cook their own meals.

Advancement

The advancement program spurs a Scout to learn, to achieve, and to mature.

1.3 Personal Growth

Scouting strives in many different ways to help Scouts grow.

Personal growth is an outcome of the Scout program. As your son sets out to master skills in the advancement program, he will experience personal growth.

Troop 442 helps our boys grow by giving service to others through service projects. Projects are varied in scope and allow the troop to participate in local civic activities. This also improves the image of Scouting within our community and fosters goodwill.

Adult association

Boys learn from the examples set by adult leaders. Association with adults of high character is critical at this stage of a young man's development. Providing positive examples is one of the methods of Scouting and one of the responsibilities of adult leadership.

All members of Troop 442 are expected to adhere to Scouting's ideals and follow the policies and guidelines contained in this handbook.

Leadership development

The development of leadership skills is a very special feature of the Scouting program. Boys are continually given opportunities to learn and practice leadership skills.

When your son first joins, he will be a patrol member. He will be instructed and coached by the older Scouts in the patrol as he learns and masters the skills he needs as a Scout. After he masters these basic skills and gains experience, he can become a leader and help younger Scouts. This opportunity for leadership also helps him grow.

Uniform

Whenever a Scout wears his uniform, it reminds him that he is a Scout and that people will expect him to act like one.

2. Organization

This section discusses troop organization and leadership.

2.1. Troop Organization

A Boy Scout Troop consists of one or more patrols. Each patrol has at least 5 boys who work together as a unit in all Scout activities.

When a Webelos Den crosses over into Troop 442, we will attempt to assign each new Scout to an existing patrol along with other friends from his Webelos Den, if possible. Each patrol will already have experienced Scouts including the elected Patrol Leader and his Assistant Patrol Leader. The current patrol leadership continues until new Scouts have an opportunity to participate in the next patrol leader election process.

A Troop committee oversees the troop's programs. The committee is made of up parents and other concerned adults. More on this later.

2.2. Boy Leadership

Scouting is a boy-lead organization. Meetings and troop events should be planned and executed by the boys. The role of adults in Troop 442 is that of advisors and coaches.

Senior Patrol Leader (SPL)

The senior boy leader in a troop is called the Senior Patrol Leader. He is typically an older experienced and well-trained Scout. He is responsible for directing troop operations at Scout meetings and outings. He teaches leadership skills to Patrol Leaders. He also insures that all Patrol Leaders are informed about troop activities.

The Senior Patrol Leader is elected by the entire troop. The elections are typically held at the troop's bi-annual TOW. At any point during their term, the Scoutmaster has a right to review performance with the possibility of a re-vote if the scout is not fulfilling their duties. To be eligible for election, a Scout:

- Must have served as a Patrol Leader for at least 6 months.
- Must have achieved the rank of Star.
- Must have attended Oak Leaf training.
- Should have attended NYLT (National Youth Leadership Training) formerly Golden Acorn training.
- Requires the approval of the Scoutmaster.

Assistant Senior Patrol Leader (ASPL)

A troop may have one or more Assistant Senior Patrol Leaders. These boys assist the Senior Patrol Leader, often with specific responsibilities such as weekly troop program or service duties. They may also be assigned to various troop level positions such as Scribe, Quartermaster, etc.

Assistant Senior Patrol Leaders are appointed by the SPL with the approval of the Scoutmaster. Scout must meet the same eligibility requirements as a Senior Patrol Leader.

Patrol Leader (PL)

The head of a patrol is the Patrol Leader. A Patrol Leader is responsible for teaching Scout skills to his patrol, directing his patrol's participation in troop activities, and making sure all Scouts in his patrol are kept informed on troop activities and upcoming events.

Your son should know who his Patrol Leader is and what his phone number is. The Patrol Leader is who your son should call for information about an upcoming troop event or activity. Please remember, the Patrol Leaders are still young men and sometimes may get event or activity details confused. If you feel this is the case, please contact the Scoutmaster or one of the Assistant Scoutmasters and bring this problem to his attention.

Patrol Leaders are elected by the entire troop. The elections are typically held at the troop's bi-annual TOW. At any point during their term, the Scoutmaster has a right to review performance with the possibility of a re-vote if the scout is not fulfilling their duties. To be eligible, a Scout must have achieved the rank of First Class and must have completed Oak Leaf training. These requirements insure the Patrol Leader has learned his Scout skills and is capable of demonstrating these to Scouts in his patrol.

Assistant Patrol Leader (APL)

The Assistant Patrol Leader is the "right hand man" of the Patrol Leader. He is selected by the Patrol Leader from members in his patrol, with the approval of the Scoutmaster. To be eligible, a Scout must have achieved the rank of First Class and, as an Assistant Patrol Leader, must commit to taking the next available Oak Leaf training class, if applicable.

2.3. Adult Leadership

Although the Boy Scout program is designed to be planned and executed by boys, there is adult leadership and an adult committee that is responsible for insuring the overall program is in line with the aims and methods of Scouting. In addition, adult leadership is responsible for the health and safety of our boys.

All adults associated with Troop 442 are volunteers. Most of us choose to be involved because our sons belong to the Troop.

Boy Scouts of America mandates "two deep leadership" at all troop meetings and outings. This requires a minimum of two adult leaders at all times for all activities. Even if only one boy is present, there must be two adults present. An adult leader must be at least 18 years old and a registered Scouter. At least one of the adults must be at least 21 years old and a registered Scouter.

However, Troop 442 requires a minimum of three adults to be present at all overnight campouts. This is to insure the health and safety of our boys.

There are numerous training programs locally available for Boy Scout adult leaders such as New Leader Essentials, Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster Leader Specific Training, Introduction to Outdoor Leader Training, and Wood Badge. Additionally, continuous training is available including Youth Protection, Red Cross First Aid, and monthly Roundtable meetings.

Scoutmaster (SM)

The primary adult leader position in a Boy Scout Troop is the Scoutmaster. The Scoutmaster's duty is:

"To train junior leaders to train themselves."

The Scoutmaster is responsible for the boys and the program. The Scoutmaster serves as an adviser and guide, making suggestions and introducing new ideas and skills to the troop. His responsibilities include:

- . Training and guiding boy leaders to run their troop.
- . Working with and through responsible adults to bring Scouting to boys.
- . Helping boys to grow by encouraging them to lead themselves.
- . Guiding boys in planning their troop program.
- . Conducting Scoutmaster conferences.

The Scoutmaster is selected by the Troop Committee. He serves at the discretion of the committee.

Assistant Scoutmaster (ASM)

One or more Assistant Scoutmasters work with the Scoutmaster to help guide and coach the boy leaders and assist with program planning. Assistant Scoutmasters are selected by the Scoutmaster and approved by the Troop Committee.

Patrol Advisors

Each Patrol may have an adult assigned to work with them. These adults are called Patrol Advisors. Advisors guide and coach the Patrol Leader and Scouts in a patrol. This adult is not a member of the patrol. His level of involvement depends on the maturity of the patrol.

Duties of an adult patrol advisor include:

- Act as mentor for a patrol. As a patrol advisor, you are assigned to a single patrol for a period of time, usually 6 to 12 months. You will aid and advise the Patrol Leader in leadership skills and delegation of duties. A patrol advisor will also advise the Senior Patrol Leader and Scoutmaster on patrol status.
- Teach by example. This can include demonstrating scouting, camping, cooking, and other outdoor skills.
- Help maintain advancement records. A patrol advisor should insure that advancement records for Scouts in his patrol are kept up to date. This includes monitoring the progress of Scouts in your patrol and encouraging continuous advancement. A patrol advisor may sign off requirements for boys in a patrol.
- Attend troop PLC meetings. PLC, or Patrol Leaders Council, is a monthly meeting held to enable the troop boy leadership to plan for the next month.

2.4. Local Organization

Troop 442 is a member of the Great Plains District. Great Plains District is a member of the Circle Ten Council.

Circle Ten Council is divided into many districts. These districts serve local communities in North Texas. The Great Plains District serves Plano, Wylie, Nevada, Lavon, Sachse, St. Paul, Murphy, Parker, and north Richardson.

Each district is made up of many Scouting units. These units serve a portion of a district, usually determined by geography, school zones, etc. These units include Cub Scout Packs (for ages 7 through 11), Boy Scout Troops (for ages 11 through 18), and Venturing Crews (for boys and girls ages 14 through 18).

2.5. Professional Leadership

There are a few paid positions in the Boy Scouts of America. Locally, Circle Ten Council has a Council Scout Executive who is a paid professional. In addition, each district has a District Executive who is also a paid professional. These professionals have been trained by the BSA and are here to assist and serve the local units.

2.6. Sponsor

All scouting units are "chartered" to a local sponsoring organization by the Boy Scouts of America. The sponsor's responsibilities include insuring the unit provides a quality program for the boys.

Boy Scout Troop 442 is sponsored by Sanden International, Inc. of Wylie. This is a community contribution on Sanden's part and in no way represents an endorsement of the company or its products.

2.7. Troop Communications

Troop 442 maintains an Internet web site at www.troop442.net. This site contains:

- Troop reference documents (including this one)
- The troop calendar
- Downloadable permission slips and information forms
- Links to other scouting websites
- Other useful information

Troop 442 also maintains an e-mail distribution list. This is a closed list, so that it cannot be used by third-parties or "spammers".

A troop directory is also maintained and distributed via e-mail. To ensure the privacy of our families, this directory is never posted to the website.

The troop website follows the web site policies set up by Circle 10 Council. We do not collect or publish personal information about the scouts. No information that would personally identify a scout is published on the site. If pictures of scouts are posted, they are identified only by first name, or by first name and last initial.

If you have any concerns about or objections to having pictures of your child posted on the site, please contact the Scoutmaster or the Committee Chairperson.

3. Meetings

Troop 442 holds weekly troop meetings for all Scouts to attend and monthly meetings for the troop boy leadership.

3.1. Troop Meetings

Troop 442 meets on Tuesday evenings at 7:00 PM at the First United Methodist Church of Sachse. The troop meets every week except for the monthly Patrol Leaders' Council (PLC).

What does my son need to bring?

All Scouts are expected to attend in Class A uniforms and to bring their Scout Handbook, paper, and pencil.

Remember HUPP -- Handbook, Uniform, Paper, Pencil.

What goes on at a Troop meeting?

Troop meetings are designed to teach leadership qualities, to practice old skills or to learn new ones, to develop patrol teamwork and spirit, to plan for upcoming events and to have fun!

Depending on the topic and objective, programs may be presented by the Senior Patrol Leader, a Patrol Leader, or a qualified adult. Part of each meeting is dedicated to allowing the patrols to meet and work together as a patrol. Meetings are also a means of keeping the troop informed of upcoming activities and events.

Who is in charge?

The Scoutmaster is in charge of all of all troop functions, but neither he nor his assistant runs the meeting. Troop meetings are organized and conducted by the Senior Patrol Leader. Troop meetings are planned by the Patrol Leader's Council (PLC).

The Scoutmaster takes a few minutes at the end of each meeting to review upcoming events. The Scoutmaster also gives the "Scoutmaster's Minute." This is usually a story or thought for the boys to ponder.

3.2. Patrol Leaders Council (PLC)

The purpose of the PLC is to develop a working plan for the troop meetings, activities, and outings. The PLC meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month to plan the week-to-week meeting program.

Overall troop planning and operations are performed BY THE BOYS.

PLC consists of the Senior Patrol Leader, assistant Senior Patrol Leader, all Patrol Leaders, all Assistant Patrol Leaders, and the Scoutmaster. Both short term and long term goals may be identified and implemented. Leadership development may also be included in the agenda.

3.3. Court of Honor

Two times a year, the troop holds a special event called a Court of Honor. This is an event to recognize the achievements of everyone in Troop 442. Advancements and merit badges are awarded and special presentations are made by adult leaders and boys.

This event is designed for the entire family and we strongly encourage you to bring everyone. This is a time when your son can show off his accomplishments and introduce his family members to the troop (and visa versa).

4. Uniforms

The Boy Scouts of America have official Scout uniforms that identify boys as members of the Scouting program. Scouts in uniform are conscious of their rank and make a greater effort to advance. Whenever a Scout sees another person in a Scout uniform, he knows he is like that person because both have committed themselves to the principles of the Scout Oath and Law. When worn, the uniform can help build good troop spirit. The uniform makes the troop visible as a force for good in the community. When properly worn, the uniform promotes a strong positive youth image in the neighborhood and can attract new members to the troop.

4.1. Class A versus Class B Uniforms

Class A uniform is the formal Scouting uniform and is worn at most Scouting functions. A Class B uniform is a less formal uniform worn for activities where a Class A uniform might get soiled or damaged.

Which uniform is worn when?

Troop 442 uses the following guidelines for wearing uniforms.

- Class A uniforms must be worn at troop and patrol meetings. Class A must also be worn for district or council events such as the Scout Show, camporees and summer camp. All travel to and from camps must be in Class A uniform.
- Class A uniforms must be worn to any formal Scout occasions. Formal occasions include Court of Honor, Webelos Crossover, public appearances such as community parades, and church services.
- Class B uniform may be worn for certain outdoor activities such as hiking, camping, and some service projects.
- Class A and Class B uniforms should not be worn to activities where the uniform could be damaged. Adult leaders will notify scouts in advance when "civilian" clothes are acceptable.

What about military, camouflage, or other inappropriate attire?

The following guidelines apply to inappropriate attire.

- Under no circumstance will a military uniform be worn at any Troop 442 function. No military insignia of any type may be worn on the Scout uniform.
- Under no circumstance will camouflage items be worn at any Troop 442 function in accordance with strict BSA policy.

Where can uniforms be purchased?

Uniforms may be purchased at:

Scout Store inside Circle 10 Council

What if we cannot afford a uniform?

Uniforms are not cheap and our boys are constantly growing. The troop maintains a uniform exchange to help ease the costs. Previously owned uniforms are collected from members who outgrow them. These are available at no cost to other Scouts in the troop.

If your son outgrows his uniform, please consider donating it to the troop.

If you can not afford a new uniform and can not find a previously owned uniform, please talk to the Scoutmaster about your situation. These discussions will be kept in confidence.

4.2. Patches and Insignia

The minimum sets of patches are listed below.

- . Circle Ten Council emblem (top left sleeve)
- . Troop 442 numeral (left sleeve, below the Circle Ten Council emblem)
- . Patrol medallion (right sleeve, below the American Flag emblem)
- . World crest (three inches down from the left shoulder, centered above the left pocket)

These patches must be sewn on the Scout shirt in the proper place. See the Boy Scout Handbook for locations. If you have any questions or need any clarification, please consult with the Scoutmaster.

5. Advancement

Advancement is one of the building blocks of the Scouting program. Advancement encourages a Scout to learn, to achieve, and to mature. Since the Scout Advancement Program is an integral part of the learning experience, each Scout is encouraged and expected to set certain attainable goals. Scouts encountering difficulty in attaining goals are requested to discuss any specific problems with the patrol mentor, Scoutmaster, or Committee Chair. Parents are welcome to join in these discussions.

5.1. Ranks

The Trail to Eagle contains seven levels of advancement. These levels are referred to as Ranks. The Scouting advancement program teaches the skills and knowledge needed to advance through the Scouting ranks.

These ranks are:

- Scout – Requirements are basic scout knowledge.
- Tenderfoot – Emphasize basic scout skills.
- Second Class – Emphasize basic scout skills.
- First Class – Emphasize basic scout skills.
- Star – Complete merit badges, service, leadership.
- Life – Complete merit badges, service, leadership.
- Eagle – Highest rank, 21 merit badges (12 specific), leadership, service project (which he plans, develops, and leads).

The rank of Eagle is the highest rank a Scout can earn and must be completed prior to the Scout's 18th birthday. This rank has always carried with it a special significance, not only in Scouting, but also in higher education, business or industry, and community service. If the scout completes the rank of Eagle with enough time remaining before his 18th birthday, he can earn additional awards referred to as Eagle Palms. The Eagle Palm encourages Scouts to continue to participate in the Troop and to continue to earn merit badges once they have earned the rank of Eagle.

Each boy plans his own program and progresses at his own pace with the support and guidance of adult leaders. The Official BSA Handbook gives the information that the Scout needs for achieving the next rank. At the back of the book are the sign-off sheets for each rank. IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT YOUR SCOUT KEEP A RECORD OF EACH THING HE DOES. THIS INCLUDES SERVICE PROJECT HOURS AND CAMPOUTS. These should be documented in his Scout book.

Not every boy who joins a Boy Scout troop earns the prestigious Eagle rank; only about 4% of all Boy Scouts do so. Nevertheless, the goals of Scouting -- citizenship training, character development, and personal fitness -- remain important for all Scouts, whether or not they attain the Eagle Scout rank. We believe learning new skills, gaining knowledge and just plain having fun are important ingredients to our program.

Troop 442 has a goal to exceed the national average by at least 100%.

Rank Requirement Signoff

Requirements for ranks of 1st Class and below may be signed off by any scout who holds the rank of Star or above. Before the scout may sign off the requirement, he must have approval from the Scoutmaster or the TFC coordinator and should have been present when the requirement was done. The Scoutmaster or designated adult troop leader may also sign off rank requirements as completed within troop setting and as appropriate. In all cases the signer must have first hand knowledge and must have taught or witnessed the accomplishment as part of a group effort or specifically scheduled event for an individual scout where two deep leadership has been followed. PARENTS MAY NOT SIGN OFF REQUIREMENTS UNLESS THEY MEET THE ABOVE STIPULATIONS.

After a Scout becomes 1st class, he is expected to take an even greater responsibility in his own advancement. The ranks of Star, Life, and Eagle require merit badges, service projects, and leadership positions. The scout is responsible for following his progress through these ranks. Once a scout has completed the requirements for his rank, he may schedule a scoutmaster conference where these requirements will be reviewed and signed off. The Scoutmaster or a designated adult troop leader who is familiar with the scout's performance in a leadership position should sign off the leadership requirement.

The adult leaders are always there to guide the scout, but the scout himself has to decide which Merit Badges interest him, what service he wants to perform, and what positions of leadership he wants to hold. As a parent, you should try to motivate him to always be working on his advancement.

5.2. Basic Skills

Advancement is divided into two categories -- basic skills and advanced knowledge. The ranks of Scout, Tenderfoot, Second Class, and First Class teach our boys basic skills in first aid, outdoor survival, cooking, and citizenship. In addition, a Scout learns to give of himself through community service.

5.3. Advanced Skills

After a boy has achieved his First Class badge, he is ready to tackle more advanced skills and earn the rank of Star, Life, and Eagle. These ranks are based on the merit badge program and leadership skills. To earn these ranks, a Scout must complete a required number of merit badges. He must also demonstrate leadership at the troop level, give service to the community, and show continual Scout Spirit.

5.4. Merit Badge Program

After achieving the rank of First Class, a Scout continues to expand his skills through the merit badge program. Each merit badge revolves around a specific topic and is designed to expose a boy to new experiences and teach him new skills. There are currently over 100 merit badges to choose from. Topics range from archery to zoology, from traditional subjects such as camping, cooking, or pioneering, to modern areas such as computers or aerospace.

How does a Scout earn a merit badge?

There are three primary ways to earn a merit badge.

1. Summer Camp/Merit Badge University
2. Troop Level Merit Badge Classes
3. Individual

In each case a Scout works with a qualified adult, called a counselor. This adult teaches and/or guides the boy through the specific merit badge requirements. When complete, the adult counselor signs a "Blue Card" or voucher indicating when a Scout has earned that particular badge.

Merit badges vary and are offered throughout the year within the troop. Merit badge counselors sign off on the work done and are the only adult leaders who may do so. Unlike Cub Scouts, merit badge work may NOT be signed off by parents.

Merit Badge Procedure

1. A scout must notify an adult leader of his intent to begin work on a merit badge
2. A merit badge counselor is assigned
3. After scout completes all requirements, a blue card is issued (scout is responsible for submitting completed blue card to adult leader) or notification to troop adult leader is given
4. Merit badges are awarded at Court of Honor, along with scout "blue card" record

What is a "Blue Card"?

A "Blue Card" is the voucher a counselor signs when a Scout completes a merit badge. (The name is cleverly derived from the color of the card itself.) The scout must maintain all blue cards that are returned to him until he reaches the Eagle rank. These cards are the official record a scout has to prove the merit badge has been earned. It can be helpful to the scout to purchase a notebook and plastic trading card holders to keep all of his blue cards in one place. These must be presented for a scout's Eagle Board of Review.

Who can be a merit badge counselor?

Any qualified adult can serve as a merit badge counselor. This includes parents (in a group or troop level setting), teachers, public officials, ministers, etc. It is desirable that the adult have some skill or knowledge in the area he is serving.

What does it cost to be a merit badge counselor?

Only your time. The Advancement Chairman has a list of available merit badge counselors. If you have a skill or hobby, please consider sharing your talent with our boys. The troop is always looking to expand our list. .

Is any training available or required?

The troop has some material on merit badge counseling and working with Scouts. Merit Badge Counselor Training is also offered online. We will be happy to help you get started.

5.5. Other Requirements

The ranks of Star, Life, and Eagle all have a requirement to be active in the troop and hold a leadership position for a given time period. Before the rank of Star a scout must be active just to complete the requirements of Tenderfoot, Second Class and First Class. Being active in the troop helps both the troop and the scout mature during the scouting process. If a scout is not active, he does not benefit from the scouting program. If a scout is not active, the troop and other scouts do not benefit from his experience and knowledge.

In order to fulfill the leadership requirements for the upper ranks, a scout that is in a leadership position must meet the following requirements of:

1. A scout must attend a minimum of 70% of the troop activities for a given month.
2. A scout should attend a minimum of 2 troop meetings plus the PLC meeting each month.

The way the percentage will be calculated is:

1. Troop meetings are worth 2 points per meeting (PLC meetings are included in the point totals)
2. Campouts are worth 1 point per night with a 2 point maximum.
3. Other troop level events/activities are worth 1 point.

Total number of points per month will be calculated and the percentage will be determined. In the event that the number of points required is not a whole number the number of points will be rounded down.

Event/Activities are defined as activities that must be open to all scouts in the troop regardless of age or rank.

Certain activities, such as high adventure, short term staffing, leadership training, OA events, etc..., can be used in place of one troop meeting and up to one scheduled troop activity in a month at the discretion of the committee or scoutmaster.

Example of point calculation for any given month:

| | | |
|---------------------|----|---|
| Meeting | 2 | |
| Meeting | 2 | |
| Meeting | 2 | |
| Meeting (PLC) | | 2 |
| Service Project #1 | 1 | |
| Camp Out (2 nights) | 2 | |
| <hr/> | | |
| Total # of points = | 11 | |

70% of 11 = 7.7 (round down to 7)

A scout of any rank must meet the 70% requirement as defined above at least one month prior to requesting a scoutmaster conference.

Life scouts must meet the same above requirements and must also be active for the month prior to asking for the committee for review of the scouts' Eagle project.

5.6. Scoutmaster's Conference

After a Scout has completed all requirements for a rank, he meets with the Scoutmaster for a "Scoutmaster's Conference." Scoutmaster conferences must be scheduled in person at a troop meeting unless the scoutmaster is unavailable, then a scout must call the scoutmaster within two days following a meeting. The Scoutmaster and boy review the boy's advancement and discuss the Scouts future goals. The Scoutmaster makes sure the Scout is ready for rank advancement and the boy has shown proper Scout Spirit. The Scoutmaster prepares the boy for what to expect at a Board of Review.

5.7. Board of Review

After the Scoutmaster's Conference, the Scout asks the Committee Chair to arrange for a "Board of Review." Boards of Review will not be held on the same night as a regularly scheduled PLC meeting.

The purpose of the Board of Review is to provide a final check before rank advancement is approved. This is also another opportunity for a young man to interact with adults and to give impromptu answers in a controlled environment.

Who sits on a Board of Review?

A Board of Review consists of three to six members of the Troop Committee. The board reviews the Scout's accomplishments and goals within Troop 442. The Scoutmaster cannot sit on a Board of Review. Assistant Scoutmasters should not sit on a Board of Review.

What happens at a Board of Review?

The Scout must present himself in Class A uniform, bring his Scout Handbook, and make sure his dues are up to date.

The board does not quiz a boy on his skill competency. The board may question the Scout on his participation at Scout activities or his leadership experiences. In addition, the board may ask the Scout what he likes or dislikes about the troop program.

One key criterion that adults on a Board of Review should look for and actively encourage is Scout Spirit. Scout spirit is defined as enthusiasm for the Scouting program.

Afterwards, the Scout is immediately notified if the board is satisfied that the Scout is ready to advance. In cases of rejection, the Scout and Scoutmaster are informed why. The board advises the Scout on what he needs to improve on.

When does the Scout receive his rank badge?

The Scout is recognized and receives his new badge of rank at the troop meeting following his Board of Review. The Scout will also be recognized at the next Court of Honor, at which time he will receive the rank advancement card and his parents will be presented with their parent pin.

5.8. Eagle Board of Review

Due to the significance of the Eagle rank achievement, Eagle Boards of Review are conducted separately from rank advancement reviews. The board is composed of three to six members including persons representing the community. Board members do not have to be registered in Scouting, but they must have an understanding of the importance of the rank of Eagle Scout. At least one member of the Eagle Board of Review must be a district or council advancement representative.

6. Training

Boy Scouts of America offers training opportunities for both boy and adult leaders. This training is organized and offered at the national, council, district and troop levels.

6.1. Boy Training

Boy leadership training includes the following courses.

- Junior Leader Training.

This training offers an introduction to leadership, team building, cooperation, and problem solving skills. Training is targeted at new Patrol Leaders and Assistant Patrol Leaders.

This one day training is provided at the troop level, usually during TOW.

- Oak Leaf Training.

This training teaches Scouts the basics of troop organization, planning, and other leadership skills. Junior Leader Training is a prerequisite.

This weekend long training is offered at the Great Plans district level.

- NYLT - National Youth Leadership Training (formerly known as Golden Acorn)

This is a course that concentrates on leadership and the patrol method. Training is aimed at developing the use of eleven leadership skills.

Requirements for this course include completion of Oak Leaf Training, achievement of the First Class rank, and a minimum age of 13.

This week long training is offered at the council level, by Circle Ten.

- Den Chief Training.

This one day class is intended to teach Boy Scouts to be a Den Chief for a Cub or Webelos Den. The class teaches the basics of leadership of young boys and how to handle the possible problems that occur.

6.2. Adult Training

Adult leadership training includes the following courses:

- Youth Protection Training.

This two hour training covers how to recognize signs of different types of abuse, reporting procedures, and BSA policies you are expected to follow.

- New Leader Essentials, Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster Leader Specific Training, and Introduction to Outdoor Leader Training.

These basic training courses are highly recommended for all Boy Scout adult leaders. In these courses, you learn the basics of safety and health, counseling, camping skills, troop activities, and leadership skills.

These courses usually span three evenings and one weekend.

- Wood Badge.

This is a one week intensive and comprehensive training course for Scoutmasters, Assistant Scoutmasters, and other adult leaders working directly in support of a Boy Scout Troop. This training is aimed at developing the use of eleven leadership skills. This course offers challenging outdoor experiences, training to sharpen Scout skills, and an opportunity to exchange ideas with fellow Scouters.

Prerequisites for this course include Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster Leader Specific Training.

- Roundtable Meetings

This is a monthly one hour district-level meeting for all registered adult leaders. The Boy Scout Roundtable is an opportunity for Scouters to get together and exchange ideas, share great programs, and learn new techniques that you can bring back to your troop. These meetings also provide a forum to learn about upcoming District and Council events and programs.

7. Discipline

All Scouts are expected to conduct themselves according to the Scout Oath, Scout Law and Outdoor Code. In addition, Scouts must abide by the rules and guidelines set forth in this handbook.

7.1. Discipline Procedures

Adult leaders are responsible for insuring safety and for making sure every Scout has a great experience in Scouting. Troop 442 will not allow negative influences from one boy to interfere with the positive growth of other Scouts in the troop.

A Scout who habitually shows no regard for troop policy will be prohibited from attending troop activities other than weekly troop meetings.

If disciplinary action is needed, the Scoutmaster is responsible for counseling the Scout in the presence of his parents or guardians. If problems continue after the counseling session, the Scout may be expelled from Troop 442.

In rare cases involving a serious or flagrant violation, the Scoutmaster or adult leader will take immediate and appropriate action. Serious and flagrant violations may include, but are not limited to, theft, actions that lead to bodily injury, or repeated lying. In the event of a serious violation, a parent will be summoned immediately to take custody of the Scout and the Scout will be prohibited from participating in any further troop activities. Before a boy may return to the troop, the Scoutmaster and Troop Committee must review and evaluate the situation.

7.2. Criminal Activity

Scouts are expected to follow the ideals of Scouting at all times. If a boy is involved in any criminal activity, he will be prohibited from participating in any troop activities until the matter is resolved. Before a boy may return to the troop, the Scoutmaster and Troop Committee must review and evaluate the situation.

7.3. Corporal Punishment

Under no circumstances, will spanking or physical punishment be inflicted by adult leaders or any Scouts.

7.4. Safe Haven

Troop 442 practices Safe Haven at all troop activities. Safe Haven is a BSA policy that states that all scouts should feel safe at all scouting events. Hazing of any kind is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. This includes initiations and any form of mental or physical abuse. The Safe Haven rule applies to all Scouts in Troop 442 at all Scouting functions.

8. Finances

Troop finance includes dues collection and annual fund-raising activities.

8.1. Dues

Troop 442 collects dues from both the family and the scout.

- ❖ Family Dues are $40 per year, payable in two installments of $20 each. Payments are due on May 1st and November 1st. These dues help pay for adult volunteer registrations and common troop equipment.
- ❖ Scout Dues are $3.00 per month, payable $.75 per troop meeting. These dues are used to pay the annual BSA registration and Boy's Life magazine subscription for each boy at the beginning of each year. Scout dues must be current before a Scout can advance in rank.

What are registration fees?

Troop 442 must renew our charter with Boy Scouts of America each January. At this time, all boys and adult leaders must be re-registered.

Registration fees are set by the Boy Scouts of America and are currently $27.00. This includes a subscription to Boy's Life magazine for each Scout. Troop 442 does not receive any of this money.

8.2. Fund-raisers

It takes money to provide a quality program for our boys. In addition to registration, there are awards, advancement materials, training fees, and troop camping equipment that must be purchased.

To fund the troop, we could either ask parents to contribute or raise the money ourselves. Troop 442 chooses to conduct a limited number of fund-raisers during the year.

Each Scout is encouraged to participate in fund-raisers. This gives our boys a sense of belonging and achievement. It also instills pride and helps develop responsibility.

Can uniforms be worn for fund-raiser?

Officially, the Class A uniform may only be worn for Circle Ten Council sponsored or approved fund-raisers. Currently, this is limited to the annual Trails End Popcorn Sale and Scout Show Ticket Sale.

What if we do not participate?

If a Scout's parents do not wish their son to participate in a fund-raiser for personal reasons, they need to discuss these reservations with the Scoutmaster. The family may be assessed a non-participation fee. The amount of the non-participation fee will be set by the Troop Committee before the start of fund-raiser.

8.3. Scout Accounts

The troop treasurer maintains two "separate" accounts for each Scout. The first is a "dues" account used to pay for annual registration fees. The second is a "scout camp" account used to help pay for summer camp expenses, camp fees, dues or Class B uniforms.

How does a Scout earn money for his "scout camp" account?

A portion of the money earned in each fund-raiser may be credited to each boy's account. This lets a Scout "earn" his way to summer camp. The portion credited to each account is determined by the Troop Committee before each fund-raiser begins.

What if a boy does not go to summer camp?

If a Scout does not attend summer camp, money in his account may be used for other camping fees, dues, or Class B uniforms.

What if a Scout transfers to another troop?

If a boy transfers to another troop, his scout camp account will be transferred to that unit with the understanding that it will only be used for summer camp, camping fees, dues, or Class B uniforms. If the Scout's new troop does not have such a policy, then the money will be retained and added to Troop 442's general account.

What if a boy drops out of Scouting?

If a boy leaves Scouting, no reimbursements will be made from his account. These funds will revert back to Troop 442's general account.

8.4. Donations

Donations are always welcomed and appreciated. Past donations have included equipment and money used to buy needed equipment. Donations may be made for specific purposes such as for equipment, purchasing awards, or paying for training. Donations may not be made for a specific individual.

Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible donation should contact the Committee Chairman.

9. Outings

Troop 442 outings include campouts, day hikes, special trips, and participation in Scouting activities other than regular troop meetings.

9.1. Prerequisites

The following items are prerequisites for any troop outing.

Medical Release / Consent to Treat

A Medical Release / Consent to Treat form is required for your son before he can participate in any troop outing. This is a notarized document that allows the adult leadership to authorize medical treatment for your son in the event that you cannot be reached.

Medical Release / Consent to Treat forms accompany the troop on every outing. These forms must be updated annually.

Permission Slip

Prior to any troop outing, a permission slip will be sent home. Permission slips contain important information regarding what we are planning, where we are going, departure and return dates and times, and how we can be reached in case of an emergency.

Permission slips include a detachable form that must be completed, signed, and returned by the deadline given in the form. This is the troop's authorization to take your son on the outing.

Medication

No drugs of any kind are permitted at a Scouting activity unless it is a medication that has been prescribed for a Scout or adult. The Scoutmaster must be advised when a Scout requires prescription medication during a troop activity.

9.2. Campouts

Camping and other outdoor activities are a focal point of the Scouting program. On campouts, a boy learns to become self-sufficient and to work with others in setting up safe and efficient camp sites. Boys learn to cook meals, use a map and compass, tie knots, build structures and use woodsmen's tools safely. They also learn many new skills that are required for rank advancement or merit badges.

Our Scouts must always follow the Outdoor Code as outlined below and in the Scout Handbook

Outdoor Code: *As an American, I will do my best to
Be clean in my outdoor manners,
Be careful with fire,
Be considerate in the outdoors,
and

When and where are the campouts?

Troop 442 generally plans on one campout per month. Our Scouts also attend a week long summer camp each year.

Campout dates are given on the troop calendar. Departure and return times and places are specified on permission slips prior to the campout.

If you have any questions, please call your son's Patrol Leader or the Scoutmaster.

9.3. Campout Costs

The cost for each campout is set by the Troop Committee and is specified on the permission slip. This cost is generally in the range of $15.00 to $30.00 per campout. The money is used to buy food and troop provided supplies (such as charcoal and fuel for stoves).

If a Scout has paid for a campout and is unable to attend, the Scoutmaster should be notified as soon as possible. Fees may not be refundable if food and supplies for the outing have already been purchased.

When the troop attends a district or council event, there may be additional fees for registration, patches, etc. These fees are set by the district and troop does not receive any of this money.

Should the cost of a campout become too expensive for your budget, please discuss the situation with the Scoutmaster. We do not wish to prevent any Scout from attending a campout because of a financial concern.

9.4. Campout Food

On campouts, cooking is done by the patrols.

The troop meeting prior to a campout, all patrols must turn in a menu for approval by the Scoutmaster.

Who buys the food?

Each patrol selects a Grubmaster prior to each campout. The Grubmaster is responsible for food shopping. The Grubmaster must keep all receipts in order to be reimbursed.

What is the food budget?

Each patrol is given a food budget based on number of Scouts attending a campout. If a patrol exceeds their budget, the patrol will divide the cost of the food that exceeds their budget.

Some basic staples such as salt, pepper, flour, sugar, etc. are kept in the patrol chuckboxes and need not be purchased for every campout.

What is not allowed?

The following items are prohibited from our campouts.

- . Candy
- . Canned soft drinks
- . "Junk food"
- . Tobacco products
- . Paper plates
- . Disposable eating utensils

In addition, patrols are discouraged from having pre-made desserts. Patrols are encouraged to cook their own desserts.

Note: Adults may have soft drinks on campout. However, adults are asked to consume soft drinks in the adult area and not share with the boys.

Who does the cleanup?

Each patrol is responsible for their own kitchen cleanup using soap and hot water. Proper sterilization methods will be supervised by the adult leaders.

9.5. Transportation

The Troop Committee is responsible for providing safe transportation to and from Scout outings.

Scouts will always wear seat belts. No riding in the back of an open vehicle is allowed. This includes pickup trucks with or without camper tops. No riding in trailers is allowed.

All drivers transporting any Scouts must be 21 years of age or older. All drivers must have a valid drivers' license and have insurance as prescribed by law.

9.6. Adult Leadership

Boy Scouts of America requires two adult leaders minimum for all Scouting activities. One of the adults must be at least 21 years old and registered Scouter.

Troop 442 requires a minimum of three adult leaders minimum for outings. On campouts, we require at least three adult leaders or one adult per patrol plus the Scoutmaster, whichever is greater.

A background criminal check is run on all adult leaders to determine their suitability according to BSA standards. This background check helps to insure the safety of our boys. This background check is performed at the council level.

9.7. Adult Participation

We encourage parent participation on campouts. All adults attending campouts will be members of the "Adult Patrol." Adults will camp and cook separately from the boy patrols. Each adult will be expected to share in an adult patrol duty roster. The Scoutmaster's patrol duties may be limited to insure he is able to fulfill his primary responsibilities to the Scouts.

Adults who are not parents or guardians of a Scout and/or are not members to the Troop Committee are NOT invited to troop campouts. It is mandatory that all adults associated with Scouting meet high moral and character standards as set forth by the Boy Scouts of America.

9.8. Sibling Participation

Troop 442 recommends that non-Scouting siblings should not attend campouts. This policy is not intended to discourage parent participation in campouts. We realize there are unusual circumstances that will make it necessary for an adult to bring siblings, but we ask that parents consult the Scoutmaster prior to the campout. Troop 442 reserves the right to ask disruptive siblings to be taken home.

The following guidelines apply to non-Scout siblings on troop campouts.

- Insurance: Brothers and sisters of Scouts are not covered by BSA insurance. Troop 442 does not incur any liabilities for accidents or injuries involving siblings.
- Activities: Siblings will not be allowed to participate in troop activities.
- Supervision: Troop adult leaders will not be responsible for supervision of siblings.
- Costs: Siblings will be required to pay a fee equal to the Scout fee for campouts.
- Equipment: Troop 442 will not be responsible for sibling tenting or personal equipment.
- Meals: Siblings will eat with the adult patrol. No separate menus or food will be provided by the troop.

9.9. Special Campouts

In addition to regular campouts, Troop 442 participates in the following special campouts.

- Summer camp. Summer camp is an annual week-long adventure at a Boy Scout camp. It is an opportunity for boys to work on merit badges and Scouting skills, while having lots of fun! Summer camp is a highly recommended part of your son's Scouting experience.
- Troop Organizational Weekend (TOW). Twice a year, the troop devotes a portion of an outing toward planning the activities for the upcoming months. At this time, all Scouts may provide input for the upcoming months' calendar. Elections are typically held at the troop's bi-annual TOW. At any point during their term, the Scoutmaster has a right to review performance with the possibility of a re-vote if the scout is not fulfilling their duties
- Family outings. Most troop activities are designed for Scouts only. However, a limited number of family outings are usually planned. The immediate family will be welcome at such events.

10. Equipment

Camping equipment is separated into two categories -- personal equipment and patrol/troop equipment. Personal equipment includes sleeping bag, rain gear, flash light, compass, etc. Patrol/troop equipment includes tents, cooking utensils, lantern, etc.

Please see the Troop 442 Camping Checklist for a detailed list of personal equipment.

- Tip #1: The key to successful camping is to pack light. A Scout should only take what he needs for the outing.
- Tip #2: All personal gear should be labeled and "rain proofed" Use ZipLoc bags and plastic garbage bags to protect gear from getting wet.
- Tip #3: It is not necessary to immediately buy lots of expensive camping equipment. Many of the required personal items may already be available at home. Don't forget birthdays or Christmas. If you need advice, please contact the Scoutmaster.

Troop camping equipment is expensive. It is the responsibility of each Scout to take care of all gear used on outings.

10.1. Patrol Equipment

Patrol gear will be inventoried and assigned to each patrol and should only be used by members of that patrol. Upon return from campouts, equipment will be inventoried and inspected. Patrols will be held accountable for missing or damaged gear.

10.2. Troop Equipment

Troop gear includes items such as woodman's tools, extra tents, extra fuel, etc. Patrols may request this equipment on campouts.

Can troop equipment be borrowed for non-troop activities?

Troop equipment may be loaned to Troop 442 Scouts for scouting related activities such as training courses or campouts. Scout borrowing equipment is responsible and accountable for returning equipment in good condition.

Can troop equipment be borrowed for personal use?

No troop equipment may be borrowed for personal use.

Can troop equipment be borrowed by other Scouting units?

Troop equipment loaned to other Scouting units must be approved by the Troop Committee.

11. Safety

Insuring safety and making sure that every Scout has a great experience is the prime responsibility of all adults associated with Troop 442. The following rules and guidelines help meet our safety responsibilities.

- Buddy System. Troop 442 practices the Buddy System on all outings. Boys are paired with another Scout of their choice. Scouts are expected to keep track of their buddy. Lone Scouts will be challenged as to the location of their buddy.

- Water Activities. The buddy system will be strictly enforced when swimming or wading.

No one may go swimming or wading without the consent or supervision of the Scoutmaster or an adult leader. No exceptions.

- Fires. Local campsite requirements must be adhered to. All designated fire areas will contain a shovel and water bucket to extinguish fires. Fires will remain within fire pits and must be attended at all times. No sticks may be removed from the fire pit.

Extinguished fires must be cold to the touch.

No fires are permitted within 10 feet of a tent. A fire bucket filled with water must be placed outside each tent. No matches, lighters, or other open flames are permitted in or around a tent.

- Camp Stoves. Propane or liquid gas fueled stoves will be used under close adult supervision. A properly rated fire extinguisher is required to be on hand when camp stoves are used.

All fuel will be stored in the adult leader area and handled by adults only. Liquid fuel may not be used to light fires.

- Lanterns. Gas-fueled lanterns will not be carried by Scouts when lit. Gas-fueled lanterns will not be allowed into tents under any condition.

Each patrol will be assigned at least one rechargeable electric lantern.

- Knife and Ax. Troop 442 offers a Tote'n Chip program for knife, ax and saw safety.

To earn a Tote'n Chip card, a Scout must complete a safety course with instruction on the proper use of woodsman's tools such as a knife, ax and bow saw. Without this card, a Scout is not eligible to use a knife, ax or saw.

If a Scout is ever seen using one of these tools in an unsafe manner, his card may be taken. If taken, the Scout must retake the course.

Adults should be challenged on unsafe practices.

12. Adults

In Boy Scouts, the Senior Patrol Leader and Patrol Leaders are responsible for planning, organizing, or executing the troop program. In addition, the Senior Patrol Leader and Patrol Leaders are responsible for minor discipline.

Adults are responsible for safety and insuring the overall troop program is in line with the aims and methods of Scouting.

12.1. Troop Committee

The Troop Committee is responsible for insuring the troop has the necessary resources to provide a quality program for the Scouts.

Every parent or guardian of a Scout in Troop 442 is considered a member of the Troop 442 Committee. Everyone is encouraged to be an active member and attend the monthly committee meetings.

The committee establishes policies and guidelines that enhance the troop's program and support Scouting purposes. The committee is responsible for providing:

- Adequate leadership for all activities.
- A safe environment for all troop functions.
- Training for boy and adult leaders.
- Transportation to activities and outings.
- Funding for activities and troop equipment.
- Guidance in teaching moral strength and character to our boys.

The Scoutmaster and his assistants serve at the discretion of the committee.

12.2. Committee Chairman

The Committee Chairman heads the Troop Committee. He is responsible for conducting monthly committee meetings and insuring that the troop is functioning according to the troop policy. The Committee Chairman has the final word on troop business and policy in cases when the committee cannot reach agreement.

12.3. Committee Meetings

The committee meets on the Monday following the Boy Scout Roundtable, which is held the 2nd Thursday of each month. The meetings start promptly at 7:00 PM in the front conference room at Sanden International in Wylie.

The Committee Chairman sets the agenda and conducts the meeting. The troop's finances, upcoming outings, special events, and other troop business are discussed. Everyone's input is welcome. The Scoutmaster represents the Scouts and brings their input to the meeting.

12.4. Parent Participation

The Boy Scouts of America have found that there is a direct correlation between a parent's involvement and a boy's success in the Scouting program. This also reflects our experience at Troop 442.

The more you support your son and participate in scouting activities, the greater will be his success and enjoyment in Scouting. And the more a boy is involved in the program, the more likely he will be influenced by the three aims of Scouting - character, citizenship, and fitness.

And there is a bonus... your son will reflect on his Scouting experiences years from now and appreciate your efforts.

Can you help?

Yes! We always need more volunteers ...

13. Child Abuse

Troop 442 takes the subject of child abuse very seriously. It is mandatory that all adults associated with Scouting meet high moral and character standards as set forth by the Boy Scouts of America. The safety and protection of each Scout is paramount.

Troop 442 has implemented the following guidelines to protect our boys.

- Adults never tent with Scouts. This rule applies to fathers and their Scout sons too.
- Adults who are not parents or guardians of a Scout and are not a member of the troop committee are not invited to participate in troop outings.
- There must be a minimum of two adult leaders at all Scouting activities. A Scout must never be alone with a single adult.
- Troop adults must take Youth Protection Training. This training is offered yearly by the Great Plains District or online at www.myscouting.org.
